Invasion Talk Spreads in London and Rome Radio Warns "Attack Coming."

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, June 5—A BBC broadcast recorded by NBC said today Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. Army chief of staff, accompanied Prime Minister Churchill on his visit to North Africa and that he decided "we are out to win this war in the quickest and most economical way."

By The Associated Press

During a trap set by the Germans, Prime Minister Churchill was back to London today and immediately called his war cabinet and military chiefs to No. 10 Downing Street—possibly to chart the attack for the "zero hour" of the invasion of Europe.

Coincidentally Churchill's homecoming, invasion talk reached its highest pitch in London newspapers, and the Rome radio previously declared:

"The attack is coming."

Behind momentous secrets of the state, shaped with President Roosevelt at the Washington war council, Churchill returned to England via North Africa where he conferred with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and visited the British and American armies bent from their conquest of Tunisia.

Fighters Escort Plane

Enroute home, Churchill's plane was escorted by fighter craft and the flight was timed to pass the sun-controlled Bay of Biscay by night, with no moon. London sources expressed belief that the Germans were gunning for Churchill when they shot down a Lisbon-to-London air liner over the Bay of Biscay on Tuesday, apparently plunging film star Leslie Howard and 12 other passengers to their death.

Churchill was accompanied by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who flew from Britain to join him in the North Africa talks, and by Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, chief of the imperial general staff, who was with him at the Washington conference with President Roosevelt and the British and American general staffs.

In North Africa Churchill also had what was described as a "most cordial" greeting with Gen. Charles De Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud, who earlier in the week settled their differences and set up a provisional French government in North Africa.

Churchill's homecoming coincided with mounting speculation that the allied blow was about to fall upon Hitler's so-called U-boat fortress.

The invasion talk, which has been the main topic of London newspapers, reached its highest pitch in this morning's press.

The Daily Mail, referring to the aerial hammering of Italy and the Mediterranean outposts, featured a headline reading "Zero Hour in Battle for Bastion of Italy."

Gas fumes which had been piped into his room through a garden hose attached to a gas pipe in the bathroom exploded. He died 12 hours later. Vance's wife, Gladys Davis Vance, 39, is in critical condition in the hospital with self-inflicted bullet wounds. Funeral services for Mr. Vance were held this afternoon in the First Presbyterian church and burial was made in Marion cemetery.

He is regarded by clergymen throughout the state as one of Ohio's outstanding religious leaders.

PRESSES FOR ACTION
ON FLOOD CONTROL

Delaware Dam in List Proposed After War.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 5—A new, more vigorous flood control program for protection of the Ohio river valley will be considered by the house flood control committee.

The plan was presented by Alan N. Jordan, executive secretary of the Ohio Valley Conservation and Flood Control Congress, at hearings called by Chairman Whittington (D-Miss) preliminary to introduction of a general flood control authorization bill.

Suggesting inclusion of the program in a post-war public works "package," Jordan said congressional approval would enable the army engineers to complete designs and other preliminary work.

Large Crowd Sees Harding Seniors Receive Diplomas

290 Graduated, Including Nine in Military Service; President of Denison University Speaks.

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Deep serenity, the sense of a mission in life and the glow of human fellowship are the measurements of an educated heart, Dr. Kenneth I. Brown, president of Denison university told members of the senior class of Harding High school at the seventy-first annual commencement exercises last night at the Chautauqua pavilion. An audience of approximately 1,500 heard Dr. Brown's address.

Music by the Harding High school orchestra and a cappella choir, and heard the names of 290 seniors read by Albert C. May, principal at Harding, as Dr. R. T. Morgan, member of the board of education, presented the diplomas.

The 1943 class is the second to be graduated since the country's entrance into the global war. The students chose red, white and blue for their class colors, nine young men are now in training for service in the armed forces, and one, Mervin E. Haines, wearing the uniform of the U. S. Navy, walked across the platform to receive his diploma with his fellow students in last night's exercises. Haines arrived yesterday afternoon from Great Lakes Naval training station, Great Lakes, Ill.

Flags Form Setting
American Flags massed on the wall of the stage formed a colorful setting and decorations were huge bouquets of snowballs and vases filled with white carnations. The carnations, the class flower, were presented to the graduates as they left the stage after receiving their diplomas, by Charles Elliott, president, and Arlene Hill, secretary of the Harding High Junior class.

The seniors, led by the junior class president and secretary, marched to their places in the center of the pavilion, to the processional march "from Verdi's 'Aida,' played by the Harding High school orchestra, directed by Homer E. Huffman. The National Anthem by the audience was followed by the invocation by Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The orchestra played a program of three numbers overture, "Fair Maid of Perth," Widal, "Gavotte," from "Mignon," Thomas, and "Minuet," from Mozart's B-flat Symphony. The program was followed by three numbers by the choir under the direction of L. G. Jones. They sang "Were You There?" Burleigh, "Chanting the Song," Roth and "Echo Song," Lasse-Widmann. The singers responded to an encore with "My God and I."

Supt. Holt's First Class
In presenting Dr. Brown, Supt. E. E. Holt spoke first to the seniors, referring to them as his "first graduating class" since they entered high school at the same time he took over the superintendency here.

Dr. Brown prefaced his talk to the seniors by expressing the hope that some day he would be invited to speak at a commencement exercise where there would be two tables holding diplomas, one for the seniors and one for the parents of the seniors.

"I want first to congratulate you, then give you a word of warning and then some notes on examination," Dr. Brown said in addressing the seniors. He congratulated them on being "wiser tonight than any day you will ever live," and by way of counsel cautioned them "not to believe we oldest when we tell you your high school days are the happiest you will ever have."

Marriage, parenthood and achievements of life will bring more happiness than any you have experienced, he affirmed.

Basis of Serenity

After warning the students that serenity is not to be confused with complacency, Dr. Brown told them that "living with yourself is one of the jobs you face if you are going to maintain in your life a deep, abiding serenity."

The importance of finding a job to do that means more than anything else in the world was emphasized as the second measurement, the understanding of one's fellowman, was the third measurement. One of the hardest things in the world to believe, Dr. Brown said, is that other countries are like our own.

"Sometimes think," he continued, "that we are unconsciously guilty of an overdose of superiority—sometimes we belittle other countries because we love our own so much. After asking 'what do you know about Ethiopia?' he told of meeting Haile Selassie, emperor of Ethiopia whom he described as a man with years of traditions.

"The flow of human fellowship will bring to you hearts the understanding that man is as one with the same response to joy and grief, he continued, and in closing

MILITARY JUNTA
TAKES CONTROL IN ARGENTINA

Pro-Ally General Arturo Rawson Heads Council After Ouster of Castillo.

BUENOS AIRES, June 5—A military council headed by pro-ally Gen. Arturo Rawson assumed governmental powers today in Argentina, last American state with diplomatic ties to the axis, after overthrowing the isolationist Castillo regime in a lightning revolt, and declaring martial law in the country.

The international significance of yesterday's bold stroke by Gen. Rawson and other military leaders in forcing President Ramon Castillo to flee to an Argentine warship still was not clear, but there were these factors:

1. One of the first acts of the provisional government was the arrest of a prominent pro-axis Nationalist, Manuel Fresco.

2. One of several proclamations said to have been issued by Rawson pledged Argentina's cooperation in a "true American union of collaboration and compliance with our international pact."

3. Pro-democratic papers published an announcement, said to emanate from the revolutionaries, pledging compliance with a resolution adopted by the conference of American foreign ministers at Rio de Janeiro recommending that all American republics break with the axis. These newspapers also called the revolt "democratic in character."

Domestic Angles Seen

Some reports, however, indicated the objectives of the revolutionaries were largely domestic.

The revolt, with Rawson leading some 7,000 troops into Buenos Aires yesterday and taking control of the governmental offices abandoned by the fleeing President Castillo, occurred on the day the Conservatives were to name a candidate to succeed Castillo.

Rawson, himself, addressing a crowd beneath the government house balcony, said his movement was "without any political leaning" and was aimed at guaranteeing "the safety of our people and our nation" because the Castillo administration had failed to respect "our institutions and culture."

Some sources implied that the revolt was to break a stranglehold the former regime had obtained on orderly processes of government through alleged ballot box manipulations. Rawson issued a written statement saying "moral corruption" marked the former regime.

Castillo's "policy of prudence," under which he adhered to a strict neutrality and kept Argentina open to axis diplomatic representatives and other observers, was reported as widely unpopular. Under a "state of siege" decree Castillo had imposed a ban upon war discussion in the country.

Members of Junta

Gen. Pedro Ramirez, who had been Castillo's war minister; Gen. Juan Giovannelli, an unidentified naval officer, and Rawson were said to comprise the military junta now fulfilling the function of government.

Under Rawson's signature martial law was declared late yesterday throughout the country and a legal holiday was called for today.

Meanwhile, from the naval gunboat Drummond cruising about the wide Rio de La Plata estuary President Castillo issued a stream of statements denying the insurgents and asserting he and the ministers accompanying him still constituted the legal government.

The Argentine supreme court had taken no action toward recognition of a new government. By law, such action is necessary. The revolution cost the lives of about 50 soldiers, it was disclosed today.

Leaders of the revolt slept late in the night, attending a wake for the soldiers who were killed in the naval engineering school. It previously had been announced that only one soldier and 14 civilians were killed.

(A dispatch from Montevideo, Uruguay, said five members of Castillo's cabinet reached there today aboard the Uruguayan gunboat Sello and that Castillo was expected to arrive late in the Argentine newspaper Drummond, which was based in the city of Montevideo.

Judge Cast continued the case until Wednesday.

PLAYGROUNDS
OPEN MONDAY

Supervised Program To Get Formal Start at 1 P. M. in Patriotic Ceremonies.

The city recreation commission's summer-long supervised recreation program will open Monday at 1 p. m. with patriotic service at McKinley, Garfield and Lincoln parks, the Marion Steam Shovel Athletic field and the Oakland Heights elementary school. These five sites previously were designated as playground areas by the commission. The Oakland Heights school yard and the Shovel Athletic field are to be used as a single unit.

In announcing plans for the opening of the three-month program, Victor Dorris, Harding High school football and baseball coach who was employed some time ago to direct the program, announced brief opening services would be held at each of the playgrounds.

He said a flag-raising ceremony will be held at 1 p. m. promptly and group singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" will follow. Then the park play directors will lead assembled boys and girls in a pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Following this the man or woman in charge at each park will speak briefly on Americanism and will contrast the free way of life prevalent in this country and the enslaved mode of life dominating axis countries.

Cites Benefits of Program

Supervisor Dorris said he believed the recreation program, if continued over a number of years, would reduce the rate of delinquency considerably. "Because," Mr. Dorris said, "youths who participate in sports at an early age will be interested in sports instead of engaging in vandalism."

Close supervision and guidance and individual attention will be especially stressed in the recreation setup this summer, Mr. Dorris promised.

The playgrounds will be open (Turn to PLAYGROUNDS, Page 6)

The captives include 22,116 Germans, 14,516 Italians and 62 Japanese. Presumably, most of the Germans and Italians were taken by American British and French troops during the North African campaign.

The present camps, located in 17 states, have a capacity of 50,000, and are being enlarged. The Army announced said yesterday. The Army said it was encouraging the prisoners to govern their own affairs as far as feasible.

Sgt. Shealy County's First Soldier In World War II Wounded in Action Twice

The first Marion county man to be reported twice wounded in action in World War II is Sgt. Alan Shealy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Shealy of 801 South Vine street.

Sgt. Shealy's name was included in a war department list of 42 Ohio soldiers who have been wounded in action in the North African area according to a report from The Associated Press.

Notice from the war department was first received in a telegram May 6 by Mr. and Mrs. Shealy stating he had been wounded in action March 21. The parents had received a similar telegram in November when Sgt. Shealy was wounded the first time.

A letter received from Sgt. Shealy last Saturday informed his parents that he was all right. In it, he said, "For as long as I've been here, I'm in pretty good condition. The letter had been written in a hospital in North Africa on April 21. His grandfather, Mrs. C. F. Smith of Upper Sandusky, received a letter around the same time saying that he was in "fair condition."

Sgt. Shealy, who is 24 years old and has been overseas a year last month, was one of the first Response to President's Directive Not Complete Retreat by Union.

WASHINGTON, June 5—John L. Lewis' coal miners raised the possibility of another strike today by hedging their back to work agreement with a June 20 deadline for setting their contract demands.

Attached to telegrams authorizing local unions to get back to work on Monday—President Roosevelt's deadline for ending the strike which has held the coal industry in thrall since Tuesday—was this qualification: "Up to and including June 20."

"This action," said the UMW policy committee, "was taken to protect your union and its membership."

However, the committee disavowed any intention of hampering the war effort, stating there was ample coal on hand and "even the present situation has not impaired our war productive effort."

Washington observers noted that neither in the telegrams to the local unions nor in a direct threat to go out on strike again, indeed, the statement set out that: "The United Mine Workers of America want to make a full contribution to maintain a continuity of coal production adequate to meet every war requirement."

Locals received this telegram: "The national policy committee, by unanimous vote, has authorized a return to work on Monday, June 7, up to and including June 20. This action was taken to protect your union and its membership. Let each member cooperate with this policy."

"By order of the national policy committee."

The telegram was signed by President John L. Lewis, Vice President John O'Leary and Thomas Kennedy, secretary treasurer.

Although the message did not use the word truce, the effect of the June 20 limitation appeared to be the equivalent of a truce. Meanwhile, the soft coal operators and union leaders returned to the bargaining table but whether they would actually negotiate the issues today was an open question. "Technically negotiations before the men return to work would violate the war labor board's order in the case."

Full Production Ahead
Industries from the coal fields were that full production would be underway again the first of the week.

The President of the United Mine Workers reached his decision yesterday after the walkout which started Monday night had cost the nation the 100,000 tons of coal, the equivalent of a truce. Trailer Park Opening Set 22-Acre Housing Facility on West Fairground St. To Start Operation June 15; Includes 300 Units.

Marion's Lincoln Trailer Park, which opened on June 15 Clifford R. Barker, manager, announced

Although no ceremony is planned, the expected officials from the national office of the National Housing Agency in Cleveland will visit the park that day.

The trailer park is immediately adjacent to Lincoln park on the north end of West Fairground street, an area of 22 acres and includes 300 trailer units. It was designed to house war workers.

Most of the trailers will be ready for occupancy beginning June 15. Mr. Barker said. He said he already has some 150 prospective renters and expects that number to increase.

A few finishing touches are needed to make the remainder of the trailers ready for occupancy. The park itself is virtually complete with all grading and sodding of lawns finished. Roadways, parking areas and hard-surfaced areas over which clothes drying racks are hung have been completed, and the various laundry, bath and toilet units have been completed.

Two size trailers are in the park and all are almost completely furnished. Occupants can move in by furnishing only linens, tableware and cooking utensils. Equipment furnished includes oil heaters, gasoline ranges, chairs, table, lamp, bed, and lighting. Regular beds, curtains and lighting are furnished. The park is equipped with a kitchen, ice refrigerator, and a kitchen worktable of linoleum.

Spaced throughout the park are 12 toilet and bath trailers and six laundry trailers equipped with tubs and other accessories including ironing boards.

Near the entrance is a small white building planned as a post office substation with lock boxes available for each family in the park. There will be daily deliveries of milk, bread and ice. Fuel oil and gasoline for ranges will be sold at the park.

Assisting Mr. Barker in operation of the park are Reese D. Starkey, superintendent in charge of maintenance; Mrs. Audra Daily of Marion, cashier and accountant; Miss Donna Mae Stone of Marion, stenographer; and a group of men and women employed as janitors and cleaners.

Marion Engineer Depot Has Busiest Month in May

Although activities have been stepped up to a pace that made May the busiest month in the history of the Marion Engineer Depot, 100 more laborers are needed, Col. C. B. Shaffer, commanding officer, has reported.

The need at the moment is for men to work as laborers. Job openings for women have been filled readily in recent weeks, but repeated calls have not yet produced the number of men workers needed.

The depot payroll, growing with the employment, is now close to $190,000 a month.

The depot began operations last September.

FIRE DEPARTMENT MAKES GOOD SHOWING AT DRILL

A fire drill Wednesday at the headquarters building brought the depot fire department on the scene in record time. The building had been cleared and firemen had connected a hose to the second floor of the building in two minutes. A second alarm was sounded that brought another squad into action in a minute and a half.

DEPOT GUARDS NOW IN SUMMER UNIFORMS

Depot guards are in summer logs now, light color, light weight cotton garments that have added

The depot entry in the city league made its debut Thursday by defeating the Waldo team. Ernest Wittred is the team manager. L. W. H. Steinmeyer and Lt. J. J. Kneaven are still receiving nominations for squad members. Uniforms will be provided as soon as the personnel of the squad has been selected. U. S. INDICTS FIRM FOR FAULTY CASTINGS

Sandusky Company and Former Officials Face Charges.

By The Associated Press
TOLEDO, O. June 5.—The Sandusky Foundry and Machine Co., charged with producing faulty castings, yesterday was indicted by the federal grand jury here on the charge of conspiracy. The company is based on alleged faulty bronze castings, delivered to the U. S. Navy for use in its destroyer-escort program. Gerald Opendaner, assistant U. S. district attorney.

Indicted are Deteroux Lake, former president, Paul H. Mielke, former vice president, Wilson D. Graybill, former shop superintendent, James W. Horan Sr., foundry superintendent and metallurgist, Harry Burdon, former assistant shop superintendent, James M. Crane Jr., former laboratory assistant, and Alfred A. Bunge, company inspector.

The investigation was made by the federal bureau of investigation over a period of many weeks. More than 30 witnesses, including Navy officers, appeared before the grand jury.

The defendants are charged with having faulty castings dipped in paraffin or treated with sodium silicate to make them pass hydrostatic tests, with having faulty test bars treated in an electric furnace so they would pass electric tests, with peening (hammering) faults in castings but with failing to mark the spots so government inspectors would be ignorant where the castings were tapped; and with substituting good bronze chips for tests in place of chips from faulty castings.

FBI agents in a surprise raid Feb. 15 found several faulty castings in a paraffin bath, Opendaner declared.

Names Chaplin. A suit has been filed in Los Angeles by Gertrude Berry in behalf of the unborn child of her daughter Joan Berry (above), asking that Movie Actor Charles Chaplin be declared by superior court to be the father of the unborn child. The suit also asks for $10,000 medical expenses, $5,000 for costs of the suit and $2,500 monthly.

Victory Garden Problem Solved by Richwood

MARYSVILLE, June 5.—While victory gardeners of Marysville and many other Ohio towns are facing the difficult task of finding someone to plow their gardens, residents of Richwood north of here, have theirs all planted, thanks to cooperation of the Richwood city council.

Men with teams or tractors to plow gardens have been so scarce and too much rain has fallen with the result that at least one-third of the gardens still are to be plowed in this community.

Gardeners of Richwood are sitting pretty because council there early this year applied to the County War Labor Board for and purchased a plow for use on the small tractor owned by the city. A disc and harrow also was purchased by the city. A city employee did the plowing and a nominal sum was paid for having the gardens prepared.

British and Americans
Favor World Police Force

BY GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 5 —

If a group of conscientious reporters were to travel around England gathering the views of the common people concerning an international police force, then across the Atlantic and talk to a cross-section of the American people from Maine to California, they would find that exactly the same proportion in each country—74 persons out of every 100—favor participation in a world police force after the war.

That is what public opinion surveys in the two countries found when they questioned the common people.

If there is as much agreement between the British and American public on other post-war questions as there is on this one, many possible controversies involving the two countries will be avoided.

In Britain, the question put to voters by the British Institute of Public Opinion was this:

"After the war would you like to see Britain joining with other countries to form an international police force?"

The vote is:
Yes 74%
No 10%
Undecided 16%

In the United States, the American Institute of Public Opinion put the question as follows:

"Should the countries fighting the Axis set up an international police force after the war is over to try to keep peace throughout the world?"

The results are:
Yes 74%
No 14%
Undecided 12%

Here in the United States, the attitude toward the international police force reveals public willingness to translate into action the belief that we can no longer afford to stay out of world affairs.

In a poll during March, more than three-quarters of those questioned across the country voted in favor of this country's taking an active part in world affairs after the present war is over.

Furthermore, nearly two-thirds questioned in another recent poll thought the government should take steps now to set up with our allies a world organization to maintain the future peace of the world.

The principle of an international police force to ensure future peace is embodied in the Bill resolution, which would put the U. S. senate on record in favor of this country's taking the initiative in organizing the United Nations for war and post-war action.

In contrast to the attitude of the majority of the people here and in Britain, the U. S. senate was widely split on the question when polled by The Associated Press during the latter part of April.

In that poll, 24 senators voted for committing the senate and the country now to a post-war course of preserving peace through an international police force. Thirty-two of the senators were opposed, and 40 senators did not vote.

WANTED AT ONCE!

300 TYPEWRITERS

from Marion County and Vicinity

for our ARMED FORCES!

VICTORY in this war depends on the lowly but all-important typewriter! Not an order is issued on land or sea that is not typed, for speed and legibility and multiple copies, by some faithful typewriter. Whether it is an admiral's order of the day or a furlough for your boy, the typewriter is used. On shipboard—in command posts at the front—in field maneuvers—by Signal Corps on the go—under the sea in submarines—on flying fields—EVERY order MUST be typed, and that calls for typewriters! 600,000 of them for our Armed Forces—and AT ONCE!

The factories can't make them—haven't made a typewriter since October 31, 1941. They are busy making guns and shells and plane parts and must keep on for the duration.

These seriously needed typewriters must come from YOU, the industries, schools, offices and business houses of the land.

In a dictator controlled country, they would be "donated" by the subjected owners to satisfy the Fuehrer. Confiscated by truckloads as they were needed. But not in America. Here you are asked to SELL them—sell to the government from your operating stock of machines produced since 1935. You will be paid fair market prices for your typewriters.

The need is URGENT! This vicinity is called on for 300 machines in this emergency and some schools and industries have already responded, but more are needed! Don't just sell Uncle Sam your SURPLUS machines. SACRIFICE something! 84% of the typewriters sold to Uncle Sam will go at once to the Army and Navy—the other 16% will be used in emergency agencies engaged in war work.

This is WAR and war calls for sacrifices of peacetime conveniences and equipment.

U. S. BUILDING AIR MIGHT IN PACIFIC

Gigantic Drive Against Japs

Now in Making.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 5—A gigantic aerial drive against the Japanese appeared in the making today with attention of both the Navy and Army turning toward more and more cases for a continuing series of bombing raids.

"The trend of war for the immediate present seems to be a battle for air bases," said Artemus Gates, assistant secretary of Navy for air who has just returned from a 27,000-mile tour of the Pacific fronts. Navy Secretary Knox nodded agreement at a conference yesterday.

Gates' statement followed an assertion of Knox that all air bases for the Pacific were being studied and that work on one field started by the vanquished enemy already was under way.

Secretary of War Stimson has said that capture of Attu from the Japanese a week ago put American forces within bombing range of Japanese territory.

Gates, discussing aerial warfare in the south and southwest Pacific, said:

"Airpower will be used more and more as time goes on. The size of the forces in the Pacific area will continue to increase."

Asked whether additional airfields had been established or captured in the Pacific area, he said he could not comment beyond saying "I can't imagine we are standing still."

The Navy's latest report on the Attu fighting listed 342 United States soldiers killed as against Japanese losses five times as great. Knox said that not a ship or a sailor was lost in the landing of American troops there.

Marion Teacher Elected To State Federation Office

George W. Wilson, Harding high school instructor who last week-end was elected vice president of the Ohio Federation of Teachers in Convention at Columbus, is pictured above. He has been president of Marion Local No. 715 of the federation since it was organized in April of 1942.

As state vice president, he will be responsible for appointing all committees of the state federation and supervising their activities. Mr. Wilson became widely known in the state organization when he appeared before the Ohio senate several weeks ago in support of legislation affecting schools and teachers.

Other officers of the Ohio federation are Emerson Fishbaugh of Newark, president; Harriet Schwimmer of Cleveland, recording secretary; and R. B. Aebhaugh of Portsmouth, sergeant at arms.

Others at the convention from Marion were Lamorne Green, Marjorie Smith, Margaret Gehring, Lillian Hinkel and Geneva Terry, who served as delegates.

Speakers of national prominence took part in the program.

W. Johnson of 244 Superior street, Co-Valedictorian.

Miss Bratton who was enrolled in the college preparatory course for her four years of high school, was selected co-valedictorian of the class of '43 along with Miss Llewellyn, who has been enrolled in the general course. Holt, who was chosen salutatorian of the seniors having maintained a 3.9 scholastic average throughout high school, was in the college preparatory course. The co-valedictorians maintained a 4 point or perfect average.

Miss Schoonover was in the college prep course while Miss Leeper was in the commercial course and Misses Acker and Johnson studied general course subjects.

Miss Leeper, in addition to her scholastic accomplishments, has never been absent nor tardy throughout her entire 12 years of public schooling.

These Capital scholarship certificates provide for a full one year of college with full tuition paid. However, as has been the case with other years from Harding, this tuition may be divided into four payments of one-fourth year each, thus benefiting the students throughout their four-year college course.

Letters to Cheer Leaders
In addition to awarding these certificates of honor yesterday, Principal A. C. May of Harding presented letters to the two Harding High senior cheer leaders this year, Mary Short and Rosemary Jones.

In addition, Tom Hurst was given a certificate of appreciation for giving tenth in county in the recent senior scholarship test and a certificate for honorable mention in the district.

Miss Llewellyn, a recipient of a Capital award, previously was presented a full tuition scholarship to Flora Stone Mather college of Western Reserve university on a special scholarship examination.

She will make use of the Cleveland college award, which calls for a probable four-year course with tuition paid, starting next October.

Steel Mills Cheer
Mine Strike End
PITTSBURGH, June 5.—Steel makers today hailed the order to end week's shutdown of the nation's coal mines on Monday as a move which would halt a scheduled reduction in steel output of as much as 25 per cent in some mills.

A spokesman for the giant United States Steel Corp. said the shutdown had placed it "just at the point where we were feeling the pinch" and announced the return to the pits would cancel plans to curtail steel production.

A survey disclosed the strike would result in a production loss of between ten and twelve million tons of coal. One blast furnace of the Republic Steel Corp. had closed in Birmingham. Another was ready to shut down there and two were to be banked here.

ALLIED PLANES BLAST AIRPORT

125 Tons of Bombs Rip Large
Airdrome on Italian
Boat.

By The Associated Press
NORTH AFRICA, June 5.—Nearly 125 tons of bombs dropped from U. S. Liberators of the Middle East air force smothered Grottole airfield near Brindisi, in southeastern Italy, in a two-wave assault yesterday while air forces from Northwest Africa shelled over Pantelleria, Sicily and Italy in their daily blows at Premier Mussolini's anti-invasion strongholds.

Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz' forces struck at Catanzaro, on the sole of the Italian boot 90 miles from the Messina strait.

Both Catanzaro and Syracuse were attacked by incendiary-laden Wellingtons Thursday night.

Cairo dispatches said hangars and administration buildings at the large Grottole airdrome were covered with direct hits in the daylight raid. Large fires were left burning and columns of smoke and explosions marked the mushrooming destruction. One entire section of the field was said to have been knocked out.

All the raiders returned safely, a United States communiqué said, although they were attacked by a formation of enemy fighters, four of which were shot down.

In Cairo, Col. Keith K. Compton, of St. Joseph, Mo., who led the Grottole attack, said he rarely had seen more accurate bombing.

"There were scores of fires which sent great pillars of black smoke into the sky," he recalled, "we completely smothered the area with bursts."

Crewmen said a number of grounded aircraft were destroyed. An allied headquarters communiqué said yesterday's attacks followed up assaults Thursday night on targets in Italy, Sicily and Pantelleria in which two planes were lost.

The communiqué also said enemy planes dropped bombs on the Algiers area last night, causing some casualties and damage, and that two enemy bombers were destroyed.

CHINESE ADVANCE STILL UNCHECKED
Base from Which Japs Opened
Attack Retaken.

By The Associated Press
CHUNGKING, June 5.—Unchecked Chinese forces recaptured Kungang, one of the bases in South Hupien province from which the Japanese launched their abortive drive on the Upper Yangtze front, the high command said in a communiqué tonight.

Kungang is 65 miles southeast of Ichang, the main Japanese base, and slightly south of the Yangtze.

The communiqué said more than half the enemy troops at Kungang were wiped out and the rest retreated.

The Chinese said they had captured an important point on the outer defenses of Ichang and repulsed a Japanese thrust to the north from Suifu, about 100 miles northwest of Hankow.

Dispatches from the front told of further points captured in the triumphant Chinese sweep to the east in what government circles have termed worst defeat of the long Sino-Japanese war. These reports said the invaders were abandoning large quantities of material and that numerous Japanese were discarding their uniforms as well as their weapons in attempts to escape, disguised as Chinese.

Revolt Believed Bringing Argentina To Allies. An apparent pro-United Nations army revolt in Argentina has driven out the neutral government of President Ramon Castillo (right), who has taken refuge aboard the gunboat Drummond, in the river Plate. The march into the capital was led by Gen. Pedro Ramirez (left), who immediately proclaimed "collaboration with the American nations." (International.)

New Argentine 9 Years With Mr. Lewis — AFL to AFL

Regime Leans
On Pro-Ally Side

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
The outstanding point of interest for the Americans in the Argentine revolt is whether it will make for pan-American solidarity — especially as regards support of the allied war effort and post-war reconstruction — and the way things look it seems likely that the new regime will have that tendency.

This revolution, like so many of the intriguing South American upheavals, contrasts more than it reveals to the outside world. There are many points which aren't yet clear and we shouldn't jump to conclusions.

However, one remark cautiously made by the revolutionary government appears to be headed by said citizens who are trying to escape from what they charge has been a reactionary attitude on the part of President Ramon S. Castillo not only towards foreign relations but domestic affairs. It's no secret, of course, that the insistence on maintaining diplomatic ties with the United States — has made other pan-American governments regard him coldly.

Understandably foreign relations figure heavily in the calculations of the revolutionists. They appear to feel that their country has been playing an isolationist role to her own disadvantage.

Food Parley Involved
In this connection I hazard the guess that the straw which broke the camel's back received no invitation to the recent United Nations conference dealing with post-war problems. The Buenos Aires newspaper Critica on May 17 was outspoken in condemning Argentina's absence from this vital discussion.

Apart from the question of principle, involving Argentina's stance in the war, her financial and trade interests have been involved heavily. Also, because of her "neutrality" stance she hasn't been eligible for lease-lend aid, and eligible for neighbors improving their military position through this assistance.

Then there is, I believe, another important aspect of the revolt which doesn't appear on the surface. The revolution strikes me as being marked with the "leftist" swing which we are seeing in so many countries. By that I don't refer to a radical movement, but to a definite turn away from control by vested interests. Castillo's opponents claim that his government stood for those interests.

If the new government brings Argentina into the allied fold it will be a boon for the United Nations. Ever since the war started the Argentine has been a hotbed of axis spying.

Diplomatic Protests
Raymond Lavalle, former Argentine consul-general in Tokyo, announced in New York on April 18 that he had resigned in protest against the Argentine's neutrality. He declared "the Argentine has been the eyes and ears of the Japanese government in the western hemisphere."

Moreover, Germany and Italy cushioned the shock of the war blockade with a small but steady flow of money and materials from the Argentine. German controlled firms in the Argentine transmitted to Berlin every possible cent of profits through neutral points. Germany's neutral neighbors increased manifold their purchases of Argentine products, and none disputed that many of these goods were relayed to the axis countries.

One result of the revolution may be to release a flood of pent-up criticism of the Castillo government. Since Dec. 16, 1941, he had ruled under a state of siege "of a preventive character," which forbade criticism of the government's foreign policy.

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—Ohioans failing to receive war ration book No. 3 because of undecipherable applications will be allowed to file new requests, H. T. Beckmann, director of the Columbus district, office of price administration, announced.

MILK CARGO LOST IN CRASH NEAR ASHLEY

Richwood and West Jefferson
Trucks in Collision.

A collision of trucks driven by Carl Wiley of Richwood and Edgar Erwin of West Jefferson on Route 42, one mile south of Ashley, Thursday afternoon resulted in the loss of over 500 gallons of milk consisting of 54 10-gallon cans being hauled to a Richwood dairy by Wiley.

Delaware county sheriff's officials reported Erwin, who was carrying resurfacing material to a road improvement project north of Ashley, sideswiped Wiley twice in an attempt to pass him before the two trucks collided some 300 feet from the original contact.

Wiley's truck suffered only minor damage while the frame of Erwin's truck was broken. Neither driver was injured.

PACKARD WORKERS RETURNING TO JOBS
By The Associated Press
DETROIT, June 5.—Several thousand Packard Motor Car Co. workers who struck Thursday in a dispute over racial relations in the plant, returned to their jobs this morning.

Other thousands still stayed away from the factory, but company spokesmen said the working force on the day shift was approximately 35 per cent of normal, and that it appeared full production might be restored Monday.

It was the first substantial response by the striking workers to the pleas of the United Automobile Workers (UAW) leaders and of federal agencies for a return to work.

The company's production of Rolls-Royce aircraft engines and of Packard marine engines had been curtailed by as much as 95 per cent by the walkout, which the management said followed the "upgrading" to machine jobs of a few Negro employees.

UAW-CIO automobiles with sound amplifiers were active in the vicinity of the plant Friday and this morning, urging all employees to return to work.

Argentina Revolt Cheers Capitals of United Nations

By The Associated Press
The sudden stroke by which an Argentine army group chased out President Ramon Castillo and took over the government was hailed in United Nations capitals today as bad news for the axis.

There was no official comment in either London or Washington, but one qualified observer in the United States capital remarked that the situation "looks pretty good" for a severance of Argentina's diplomatic ties with the axis.

All London afternoon newspapers referred to the Castillo government as pro-axis and Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard said editorially that "the Argentine has struck a fierce diplomatic blow and sounded a clarion call which other politicians still sitting in neutrality's saddle would do well to heed."

The Standard added that the Argentine revolution had started a campaign which would lead "to the collapse of every vestige of Fascist influence throughout the world."

On the basis of enemy press transmissions recorded by the federal communications commission, the office of army information reported that axis reaction was checked with extreme caution coupled with efforts to minimize its effect by disseminating misinformation.

Elinor Davis, director of war information, declared the revolution "means that even the conservative and military classes in Argentina realize that the axis is going to lose the war."

CRITICAL CONDITION
Little Change Noted Following
Removal of Bullets.

Mrs. Gladys Davis Vance, 39, a former public school music teacher in southern Ohio and a private music instructor here, for the last five years, remained in critical condition in Marion City hospital today as city and county authorities pushed an investigation into the fatal shooting of her husband, Terley L. Vance, 38. Mr. Vance was principal of the Glenwood elementary school.

Mrs. Vance underwent an operation at City hospital this yesterday morning for the removal of bullets lodged in her head. The operation, a Marion surgeon who performed it said, was successful to the extent that two of three pieces of two disintegrated bullets were removed. The third, lodged deep in the brain tissues, could not be removed.

As far as hospital officials knew Mrs. Vance still has not been informed of the death of her husband. At her bedside are two sisters who have been here since late Wednesday.

Hospital officials said hundreds of telephone inquiries have been received since Wednesday.

Jordan explained that the reservoirs were part of an engineer approved plan for the Ohio valley where he said there had been 50 floods in 50 years that took 1,000 lives and caused property damage in excess of a billion dollars.

The reservoirs recommended are the Conemaugh east of Pittsburgh; the Huronville, southeast of Parkersburg, W. Va.; the Sutton northeast of Charleston, W. Va.; the Summersville northeast of Gauley Falls, W. Va.; the Delroy on the Big Sandy, Ky.; the Falmouth, northeast of the Newport, Covington, Ky.; area; Delaware, north of Columbus, O.; the Darby, southwest of Columbus; Deer Creek, west of Circleville, O.; Paint Creek, west of Chillicothe, O.; and Rocky Creek, west of Chillicothe.

"The Scio-Sandusky conservancy district, a legal political subdivision of Ohio, established under the conservancy act, is ready and anxious to cooperate with the army engineers in this project," Jordan told the committee.

With these reservoirs in addition to the already-built or authorized Berlin and Mosquito reservoirs in the Muskingum valley,

Cooper Gets 2nd One Hitter in Row

Big Cardinal Ace Silences Phillies' Bats To Win 5 to 0.

By HUGH FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

A few weeks' career in the major leagues, St. Louis fans were again carried away by the report that Cooper had a "core arm." Their word champions were wearing the hated Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League race, Cooper had taken a couple of sound smackings; and the Cardinals' customers figured there wasn't much hope without the full-time services of the big fellow who won 22 games and lost only seven last year.

Well, the Cards still are second by half a game, but if Cooper still has a "core arm," Manager Billy Southworth probably wishes that all his other pitchers would go out and get ones just like it. For big Mort pitched his second one-hit game last night to beat the Phillies, 5 to 0. He had done the same thing against Brooklyn Monday.

He didn't allow a hit until Jimmy Waddell singled in the eighth, but gave no walks and he whiffed five.

The only reason the Cards remained in second place after that showing was that the pace-setting Dodgers drove Paul Derringer to cover with a seven-run first inning and went on to pile up 23 hits for an 18 to 3 triumph over the last-place Chicago Cubs.

Meanwhile, winning streaks carried the Pittsburgh Pirates into third place in the National League and the Detroit Tigers into second in the American.

The Buccaners, hanging up their fifth consecutive victory and their eighth in nine games, just lasted to gain a 9 to 8 decision over the New York Giants before a night crowd of 14,120. This put them a half game ahead of the Cincinnati Reds, who took a day off.

The Tigers' fourth straight triumph was a 2-1 decision over the Senators before 14,800 Washington fans. Detroit thus moved a half game ahead of the Nats and one and one-half games behind the New York Yankees, who humored their way to a 6-4, ten-inning decision over the St. Louis Browns in one of the three daylight games.

The biggest floodlight crowd, 16,491, turned out at Philadelphia to see Jesse Flores lose his second game after seven straight victories as the Cleveland Indians pulled out a 3-2 decision over the Athletics.

The Chicago White Sox whipped the Boston Red Sox, 4-3, in the other afternoon contest.

TRIP EAST SEEMS TO TIE UP RED MUSCLES

But at Home the Boys Get Plenty of Hits.

By The Associated Press
CINCINNATI, June 5.—What happens to the "muscle" in the bats of the Cincinnati Reds once they cross the Allegheny mountains is a question Manager Hill McKechnie would like to have answered before he takes his charges eastward again.

The Reds' recent swing, the most disastrous since 1937, saw the Queen City lads ending humble pie eight times out of 11 starts.

After being belted around, the Reds came home. A few changes in the lineup and McKechnie once more had a winning team. The big guns on the Reds began their barrage and the extra-base knocks played a two-four best on the fences in the outfield.

They've won eight of their last ten games. They opened the home stand by surprising the surprise Phils with three straight wins. Next they knocked off the Dodgers in the first of three games, but the next day, Sunday, the Sabbath day jinx caught them and "naturally" they lost two.

(The Reds have lost five Sunday double headers this year.) The Reds go back to their homework this afternoon in a ladies' day contest against the Braves. Jim Tobin will be on the mound for the Braves against Bucky Walters for the Reds.

NEW LEADERS IN AA BATTING LIST

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 5.—Al Zarilla and Phil Weintraub of Toledo and George Stump of Columbus topped the high levels in the American association's batting averages during the week after the most spectacular hitting spree of the season.

Zarilla, in tenth position a week ago, and Weintraub who was thirteenth, each collected 14 hits in 29 trips to the plate to leap to second and third place, respectively. In statistics computed through Wednesday's games, Zarilla boosted his average from .310 to .368 and Weintraub hiked his from .300 to .360.

Stump, who had not been at bat enough times to be considered in the hit parade, punched out 14 blows in 19 times up to soar into fourth place with .357.

Hershel Martin, Milwaukee outfielder who has been on the sidelines eight days with a leg injury, still was far in the lead, however, with his fabulous .435 figure.

Weintraub took over the home run leadership, hitting three last week to boost his total to five for the season. Ed Morgan of Indianapolis and Steve Barath of Louisville shared the lead in triples with four apiece.

Milwaukee was tops in team batting from .294, followed by Toledo with .277 and Columbus with .256. Columbus led in team fielding with .978, while St. Paul had posted .975 and Louisville .974.

Johnny Whithead of Toledo suffered his first defeat last week.

Air Thriller At Marion

"One of Our Aircraft Is Missing" Is Film Story of RAF Operations.

Starting with a midnight show Saturday night and running through Monday at the Marion theater is "One of Our Aircraft Is Missing" starring Godfrey Tearle and Pamela Brown, and "Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon" with Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce.

Audiences who see "One of Our Aircraft Is Missing" will get a play-by-play description of how the RAF plans and executes its current huge bombing raids over targets in Nazi Germany. The story concerns a Wellington Bomber and its crew that is forced to bail out after the aircraft is damaged and the adventures the members have while getting back to England.

"Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon" with Rathbone portraying Holmes and Bruce representing Watson, is based upon Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Dancing Men." The screen play has a background with motivations supplied by the attempted theft of a super bomb.

"Playing Tuesday and Wednesday is "We Are the Marines" starring actual Marines. It is a full-length film record of the training and fighting of the U. S. Marine Corps. The March of Time filmed the picture.

On the same bill is "Over My Dead Body" featuring Milton Berle and Mary Beth Hughes. Berle is a murder story expert who gets himself into trouble when he becomes involved in a real murder case.

On the bill to play Thursday through Saturday is "Quiet Please, Murder" which tells of a brilliant but utterly unscrupulous man and his selfish, coldly beautiful partner. It is set in the quiet of a public library.

Playing at the same time will be a fast-moving Western, "Thundering Trails" starring Bob Steele, Tom Tyler and Jimmie Dodd.

Additional rides are being erected and the big swimming pool is rapidly nearing completion for the opening.

Arizona is the leading copper-producing state in the Union. Gold was first mined in what is now Colorado in 1856.

BUD ABBOTT AND LOU COSTELLO (above), champion comedians, are starred in Damon Runyon's "It Ain't Hay" to play at the Palace theater Sunday through Wednesday.

Abbott and Costello In Runyon Film at Palace

"It Ain't Hay" To Be Shown Sunday and Monday; Another
Dr. Gillespie Story Coming.

Abbott and Costello will come Sunday through Monday to the screen of the Palace theater in Damon Runyon's "It Ain't Hay."

The picture also features Grace McDonald, Cecil Kellaway, Eugene Palette, Patsy O'Connor and Richard Lane. An added feature is the appearance of Leighton Noble and his orchestra.

Some of Runyon's most colorful Broadway characters are portrayed in the story in which Bud and Lou become embroiled in a strange case of mistaken identity.

Two horses, however, are the principals in the error, one a nag and the other a handicap favorite. When the comics are suspected of substituting one steed for the other, the action of the film develops its most comic situation.

Romance and music are contributed by Miss McDonald and Noble. The pair sing "Glory Be," and other musical numbers are "Sunbeam Serenade," "Old Timer" and "Hang Your Troubles On a Rainbow."

Entertaining highlights in many sequences of the film are presented by the Vagabonds, the Hollywood Blondes and the Step Brothers.

Thursday through Saturday on the Palace screen will be "Dr. Gillespie's New Assistant" with Lionel Barrymore and Susan Peters. Screen newcomers in the film are Van Johnson, Richard Quine and Keye Luke who are introduced into the series as a trio of young internes. One of the first problems that confronts the trio is a baffling case of amnesia for which there seems to be no contributing causes. Its solution provides the backbone for the

Otto Kruger, Elissa Landi and in War Drama.

"Corregidor" opened Friday at the Ohio theater to play through Monday. It stars Otto Kruger, Elissa Landi and Donald Woods. While "Corregidor" depicts the grim and bitter struggles of what Alfred Noyes calls "the living rock," graphically portraying the epic battles as they actually occurred, the tragic events are the background of a passionately moving love story—the sacrifice of two American officers in love with the same woman.

Elissa Landi characterizes the woman married to one surgeon and in love with another. Otto Kruger plays the husband, with Donald Woods the old sweetheart whom she again meets at Corregidor. Their love flames anew, and the husband offers to step aside that they might be happy together. But both wife and friend refuse.

During the last bitter days of hopeless fighting on "The Rock," they carry on their humanitarian work as surgeons, till finally Kruger is killed and the other man watches as the bomber evacuates the woman he loves to Australia and safety.

"Now Voyager" with Bette Davis and Paul Henreid will play Tuesday through Thursday. Miss Davis plays the part of Charlotte Vale, the neurotic daughter of a strict mother, whose only escape from her sordid world is a frustrated love affair.

After Charlotte is interviewed by a psychiatrist, played by Claude Rains, he advises her to take a trip. This she does, and during the voyage meets and falls in love with Paul Henreid, who portrays the part of an unhappy married man. Despite the fact that her love affair can never really reach its ultimate, Charlotte's relationship with Jerry (Henreid) enables her to return home a completely changed woman both in appearance and mentally.

Beginning a four-day engagement Friday is "Hello, Frisco,"

ABOVE ARE OTTO KRUGER AND ELISSA LANDI as they appear in "Corregidor," which is playing at the Ohio through Monday.

"Silver Queen" On Double Feature Program at State

"Silver Queen" which will play at the State theater Sunday and Monday is about a glamorous gambling woman, the Silver Queen, played by Priscilla Lane, and the two men who vie for her affections, George Brent and Bruce Cabot. A highlight is a fight between Brent and Cabot. Brent wins the fight and the Silver Queen both, but not before he and Cabot exchange some high-powered snobs.

To play on the same bill is "Undercover Man" with William Boyd and Andy Clyde.

Bill Elliott and Tex Ritter star in "King of Dodge City" coming Tuesday and Wednesday, along with "Unfinished Business" with Irene Dunne and Robert Montgomery.

Buck Jones and Tim McCoy will ride on the screen Thursday through Saturday in "West of the Law." The other feature will be "Gallant Lady" with Rose Hobart and Sidney Blackmer.

"Hello" featuring Alice Faye, John Payne and Jack Oakie. The story of the Technicolor film is set in the Barbary Coast in old San Francisco.

Pitfalls of Love

MARY COCKED A BROW at Katharine, who was sitting at the typewriter, and I saw a note slipped into the typewriter. Katharine, who was sitting at the typewriter, and I saw a note slipped into the typewriter. Katharine, who was sitting at the typewriter, and I saw a note slipped into the typewriter.

"What say, dear?" she asked, looking at me. "I should say you've decided to go to the typewriter, haven't you?" Katharine, who was sitting at the typewriter, and I saw a note slipped into the typewriter.

"Oh, Mary!" she said, in answer to words at the other end of the wire. "I did not know you were back. I am over at Mrs. V. Allen's. Will you please send the guard after me? Thank you. Au revoir!"

As she replaced the receiver, she turned to me. "What do you want me to tell Mary about that message?" she asked.

"Only what you told me," I decided promptly. "Tell her the circumstances under which you received the message, your conviction that it was in George's handwriting, and repeat to her as much of the message as you can remember, no doubt at all of it."

A quick flash told me that before she had brought the message to me, she had read it so frequently that she knew every word of it. "Tell her that I do not think George wrote it," I said. "I have asked to have my father see it, and that he will bring it over as soon as possible. But," I cautioned finally, "say no word about the danger which I believed you would have incurred if you had answered the summons. My father will enlarge upon that better than I can. Nor, if I were you, would I confess that for a minute you were impelled to obey the summons without consulting anybody. After all, you didn't go, did you?"

Mary Intervenes
"And what she doesn't know, won't hurt her," Mary finished. "After all, Lina, that's what Auntie Marge really means, but never in the world would she say it that way. She'd use words so lengthy, so beautiful and with such fine shades of meaning that nobody ever would suspect her of being so brash as to 'cover' you."

"Mary! Mary!" I protested. "You are simply incorrigible." But I had no time for any further words, as the knock of the guard sounded on the door. When Katharine had gone out under his escort, and the door closed after her, I rose.

"I must get this note into my father's hands without delay," I said, turning to leave the room. "Are you sure Redfield is in the room?" Katharine asked quickly. "Wherever you must not go over alone."

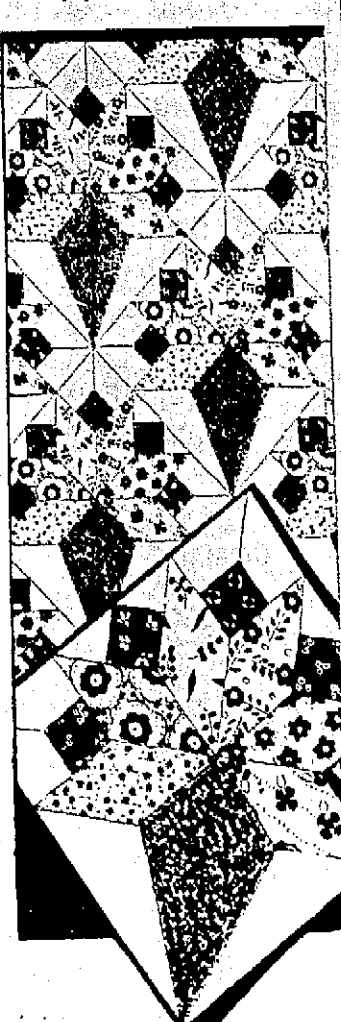

"Absolutely," I said. "Adams will see to that."

"Then—you may go," Katharine said, affecting a grandiloquent manner, and I realized how my father's promise of a coming reunion with her husband had given a fillip to her spirits which even the dreaded prospect of the coming interview with Ruth Hayes could not wipe out.

Madge Leaves
"A thousand thanks for your gracious permission," I told her with an airy wave of my hand as I went out of the door.

My knock on the apartment door brought Noel, and as he admitted me, I saw that my father was not in the room.

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, June 6

SUNDAY'S horoscope is an excellent one for all manner of activities of a professional, social, cultural and spiritual nature. The second may be of special affairs, possibly of a religious or charitable marriage.

Bates had a number of other marriages.

Now it is understandable how a man with Huxley's disabilities must have suffered great distress and repeated failure in the use of his eyes. Some of Bates' treatments would naturally help to restore eyes, for instance, "palming," which consists simply in covering the eyes with the palms for a while and "shifting," which involves the focus from one thing to another. These are methods of mental, ocular and bodily relaxation.

But to suggest that they or any of the other exercises relieve poor vision, and eyestrain due to poor curvature of the cornea and lens, is not only absurd but wicked, because people who could be instantly relieved by glasses are stunted into undergoing a long set of exercise training which not only does not improve their vision, but gives them serious eyestrain. That a man, the grandson of T. H. Huxley, one of the most scientific writers of the last generation, should sponsor such nonsense is indeed a discouraging sign for our civilization.

or other romantic or domestic festivity.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of exceptional good luck, prosperity and happiness. Business, finance and credit, success and expansion, but the accent is placed on the romantic social and domestic relations. It should be a time for pushing to high goals of achievement and happiness.

A child born on this day may be bountifully endowed with all the elements and talents, for success, happiness, renown and high prestige with the mighty.

For Monday, June 7

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for a day of extraordinary enterprise, initiative and high-pressure tactics, in pursuit of new objectives of major scope and importance. There may be original, novel angles, culminating in thrilling and dramatic accomplishments. Romance and emotional urges may enjoy fulfillment.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the eve of accomplishment of an unusual nature. The emotional and sentimental urges may also reach dramatic crises, with enduring and practical fruition.

A child born on this day may have exceptional ability, creative and original as well as practical and constructive.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Eyes Exercises

"The Art of seeing" is the title of a book by Mr. Aldous Huxley, published a few months ago. I have enjoyed Mr. Huxley's other books and thought this might be a characteristically sensitive account of how he learned to find hidden meanings and angles in the common sights of the world around us.

What I actually found was a shock and a disillusionment. Mr. Huxley had the misfortune to suffer in his youth from a serious eye affection which forced him to leave Eton college and from which he was almost blind for three or four years. He made his way through Oxford by reading with a magnifying glass. He states that he had keratitis punctata, a set of spotted opacities on the cornea. This left him with one eye just capable of light perception and the other with five per cent of normal vision.

That he achieved such a degree of literary success as he did with such a handicap is, of course, remarkable and creditable to his will power and inner vision, for inner vision he has plenty. A few years ago he fell in with the teachings of William H. Bates, a self-appointed healer whose German followers have not hesitated to compare with Christ, who claimed to cure glaucoma, nearsightedness, far-sightedness, astigmatism, old-age eyes, which require reading glasses, cough, hay fever, facial neuralgia, catarrh, syphilis of the eye, and central blindness.

Bates' method depends on exercises of two of the six muscles by which we can, by voluntary control, move the eyeballs to the right and left and up and down, and obliquely. They are attached to the outside of the eyeball, not to the lens, which accommodates our vision to far objects or near objects. Nor do they change the shape of the cornea, which has to do with astigmatism, nor the length of the eyeball, which has to do with near- and far-sightedness. Besides these exercises
